Student knowledge assessment system

The assessment of the level of achievement of the student's learning results in the educational component of the educational program includes assessment forms - intermediate (one-time or multiple) and final assessment, the sum of which represents the final assessment (100 points).

Intermediate and final assessment (assessment forms) includes assessment component(s) that determine the method/methods of assessing the student's knowledge and/or skills and/or competencies (oral/written exam, oral/written survey, homework, practical/theoretical work, etc.). The assessment component combines uniform assessment methods (test, essay/essay, demonstration, presentation, discussion, performance of practical/theoretical task, working in a working group, participation in discussion, solution of a case study, participation in simulated process, etc.). The assessment method/methods are measured by the assessment criteria or the measuring unit of the assessment method, thereby determining the level of achievement of the learning outcomes.

Each evaluation form and component has a specific share in the final evaluation from the total evaluation score (100 points), which is reflected in the specific syllabus and is communicated to the student at the beginning of the academic semester.

Credit may not be awarded using only one form of assessment (interim or final assessment). Credit is given to the student only if he receives a positive assessment.

During the implementation of the educational program, the specific share of the minimum competence limit of the student's intermediate and final assessment is reflected in a specific syllabus and is communicated to the student at the beginning of the study semester. evaluation system lets go:

Five types of positive evaluation:
(A) Excellent	91-100 points;
(B) very good	81-90 points;
(C) good	71-80 points;
(D) satisfactory	61-70 points;
(E) Sufficient	51-60 points.
Two types of negative evaluation:
(FX) failed	41-50 points meaning that student is granted permission to re-take exam once after working on preparation independently.
(F) intercepted	40 points or less meaning that student's work is not satisfactory and they need to study the subject again.
Assessment forms and components

The Programme graduate may also pursue a master's degree in any other field unless the prerequisite for admission to this Programme is not restricted to a bachelor's degree in another specialty.

Material resources necessary for the implementation of the program

Resources The material resources available and owned by the Teaching University ensure the realization of the goals of the undergraduate educational Programme and the achievement of the planned learning outcomes:

Buildings and Facilities– The undergraduate education Programme is implemented in the premises owned and operated by the teaching university 24 hours a day, where sanitary and hygienic and safety standards are maintained (the buildings have alarms, fire extinguishers, video monitoring system is in place, and the university security guard is in charge). The building is fully aligned with the technical requirements set for the higher education institution, with auditoriums equipped with proper equipment and inventory (projectors, chairs, desks, boards, etc.) for lectures and practical classes.

Library–The library of the Teaching University holds print and electronicresources relevant to the bachelor degree Programme available to students, invited and academic staff. The library has a reading room equipped with appropriate equipment (chairs, tables, computers). The library has a multifunctional copier that the student can use with the help of a library staff. Students can access the Internet and international electronic resources (Legislative Herald, EBSCO, HeinOnline, ELSEVIER: Scopus, Science Direct, Scival Funding). The University Library has an electronic catalog. Academic Staff Workspace –

The academic staff is provided with work space equipped with the appropriate inventory and equipment (chairs, desks, cupboards, internet access,multifunctional copier).

Information and Communication Technologies - To facilitate the implementation and administration of the undergraduate educational Programme, the teaching university uses information and communication technologies. Technical support for Bachelor's degree-related software is available, existing computers respond to modern needs. They are connected to the Internet and are available to students, academic, invited, and administrative staff. Electronic learning management system is used to facilitate students' access to their assessment, control of students' academic performance by the administrative staff and the teaching process. Through the website of the Teaching University, which contains a catalog of educational Programmes and information related to theirimplementation, conduct, etc., Teaching University provides publicity and access to information.
